

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the times."

The Austrian steam "sloop-of-war" arrived at Southwest Pass below New Orleans yesterday, and landed a telegraphic dispatch for the Austrian Government. Her national ensign was draped in deep mourning. The reticence of her officers is regarded as significant. They, however, report that Mexico was captured on the 20th by the Liberals, though particulars had not reached Vera Cruz at the time of sailing. The Mexican schooner Atlas also arrived at the mouth of the Mississippi yesterday, having on board twenty exiled Mexican Imperialists, who had been peremptorily banished.

Wm. E. Cleaver, recently granted a new trial and released on bail by Judge Fisher, (after conviction of manslaughter in causing the death of a young girl, fourteen years old, by outraging her,) returned to Washington on Saturday from Baltimore, where he had been in the service of the prosecution, procuring new testimony against Surratt. Cleaver, it will be recollected, testified a few days ago as to his interviews with Sanford Conover and the "Hon." Mr. Ashley; also to seeing Surratt in Washington April 14th, 1865.

Wm. P. King and Abram Owens were executed at Franklin, Kentucky, on Friday morning for the murder of one H. King, a brother of one of the executed men. When being conveyed to the gallows a most extraordinary spectacle presented itself in the shape of a procession, headed by a brass band, and this barbarous exhibition was rendered more revolting by the condemned men being formally introduced to the spectators and indulging in long speeches.

The investigation into the reported robbery of the steamer F. W. Brooks, at St. Louis, of $8,000, has disclosed the fact that the owners, Henry A. Huffer and W. A. Ritter, and her captain, J. A. Johnson, had entered into a conspiracy to rob and burn the boat and defraud the insurance companies. All the criminals have been arrested, and $8,850 of the stolen money recovered. Johnson and Ritter have confessed their connection with the affair. The Secretary of War has authorized the issue of one thousand breach loading arms and fifty thousand cartridges from Leavenworth arsenal to the Union Pacific Railroad Company, Kansas Branch, to enable their engineers and working parties to protect themselves against the Indian attacks. The company have already received five hundred Spencer rifles for the same purpose.

The jury in the Joshua Higgins case, involving a considerable amount of money, and removed from Prince George's county, Md., to Anne Arundel, and which has been on trial there for the past week, came into court early on Saturday, having retired some two days since, with a verdict in favor of the accused, thereby sustaining the bill.

At Somerville, New Jersey, on Saturday, Jake Van Arsdale killed a little son of Andrew Beard. The boy went to Van Arsdale's room to call him to breakfast, when it is charged he jumped out of the bed, seized the child, and cut his throat from ear to ear. Van Arsdale tried hard to escape, but was overtaken and lodged in the county jail.

At the silver wedding of Joseph H. Pardee and wife, of East Haven, recently, one of the gifts was a beautiful loaf or cake, in the frosting of which were neatly embedded twenty-five silver half dollars.

FOREIGN NEWS.—At the public breakfast given in honor of Wm. Lloyd Garrison in London on Friday, a letter was read from the Count de Paris eulogizing, in warm terms, the service done by Mr. Garrison in the cause of humanity and freedom. Mr. Adams, U. S. Minister, who was absent, also sent a letter, the tone of which was rather qualified and reserved.

Abdul Azeiz, Sultan of Turkey, arrived in Paris on Saturday, and was received by the Emperor Napoleon.

Prince Napoleon has again taken up his residence in Paris, and the Elisee is now being prepared for the reception of his household.

The Pope, both before and after the grand religious solemnities, celebrated on Saturday, and wherever he appeared in public, was received with most enthusiastic manifestations of attachment and devotion from the immense multitudes of clergy and laymen gathered from all parts of the world.

MORE OUTRAGES UPON THE STATES THREATENED.—The Washington Chronicle to-day, contains the following:

"When the conspirators [i. e. the legal Constitutional Convention,] at Annapolis get through with their work, we hope to see it submitted to the supervision of the power which the Constitution of the United States says, may not, but shall guarantee a Republican form of government." We are satisfied it will be pronounced non-republican in form, and as there was no permission given to Maryland to change the form of government guaranteed in 1789, and several changes have been made since that time without submission to the guarantor for authority to go into operation, we expect that self-styled "free, sovereign and independent State," to be proclaimed to be in a state of constitutional anarchy, and the citizens of the United States therein, without regard to race, color, or origin, to be authorized to elect a convention to frame a government that shall be republican in form. The Washington Chronicle, we perceive, in an able historical argument upon this question, asks the rehabilitation of Delaware upon the same theory.

[The end will come some of these days—sooner or later. These "givings out" of the Chronicle are the ideas and sentiments of the "advanced" line of Radicals—but the others will march up.]

WE understand that no reports will be made to Congress at its July session by any of the Departments, unless information is specially called for. It is also said that the Executive will have no special communication to make. Those, therefore, who, as representatives of the party whose partisan ends are to be attained, have virtually convened the two Houses, must also assume the responsibility of recommending subjects for consideration, as well as become accountable for the addition to the public debt thus needlessly incurred.

If, however, upon consideration, the President should conclude to address Congress, he will doubtless confine himself to a faithful representation of the anarchical condition of the ten unrepresented States, chiefly in consequence of the vague terms of the reconstruction acts in virtue of which the military commanders have assumed powers, inconsistent with the intent and meaning of the law, and differing from each other, as well as from the advice of the highest legal officer of the Government.—Nat. ## Commissioner's Decision in the Downey Registration Case.

On Friday, in Richmond, U. S. Commissioner Chisholm gave the following opinion in the case of the United States vs. Mark Downey, charged with perjury in taking the registration oath:

The Alexandria Constitution provides that no person shall be allowed to vote without first taking an oath that he has not given aid and comfort to the rebellion since January 1, 1864, and prescribes a means by which this disfranchisement may be removed. It is not necessary for me to decide whether this disfranchisement has ever been legally removed or not. I have only to determine whether it ever legally existed. Upon this I think there can be no doubt, for the constitution adopted at Alexandria is now the recognized constitution of Virginia, and the persons disfranchised by that constitution were in fact prohibited from voting until the Legislature was called together and the disfranchisement removed. The reconstruction act of Congress provides that no one shall be registered as a voter without previously taking an oath, a part of which is in the following language—to wit: "I have not been disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, &c." The evidence in this case shows that Mr. Downey participated in the rebellion after January 1, 1864, and that on the 15th day of June, 1867, he took the oath under the act of Congress referred to above.

It is argued by the counsel for Mr. Downey, first, that the words "have not been" convey an entirely different meaning from what would be expressed by the words have never been, and that "have not been" refers to the present and not to the past, and consequently in considering the clause in the Alexandria Constitution we should not determine whether Mr. Downey had been disfranchised at some past time, but confine ourselves solely to the question, whether he is now disfranchised under that constitution? On this point I am of opinion that "have not been" is a disfranchisement in the oath under the reconstruction act refers to time past.

It is further argued that Mr. Downey is not charged with knowingly and willfully taking a false oath, and that it is not even pretended that he committed a wilful wrong. It is clear that when swearing to a fact it is necessary to constitute perjury that the person swearing should know that what he swears to is false at the time he swears, or at least that he has not good grounds for believing at the time what he swears to. But there is a distinction between ordinary facts and legal facts in this, that every one is presumed to know the law, and cannot plead ignorance as an excuse. The rule that ignorance of the law is no excuse operates harshly in many cases. The law may be of difficult interpretation. Jurists may differ as to its meaning. It is certainly very hard in such cases to presume that a plain citizen should know the law, when in point of fact the wisest and most learned in the profession do not know it. But I am not aware that even in cases of this kind the rule has ever been relaxed. Whether it should be relaxed in the present case is, as it seems to me, not within my province to determine. Acting as a commissioner, I am only to inquire whether there is probable cause to believe that the accused is guilty of the offence he is charged with, and if there be such probable cause to believe that he is technically guilty of the offence, it does not rest with me to say that he is morally guilty, and therefore should be discharged. I am of opinion that, applying the rule that ignorance of the law does not excuse, the accused has sworn that to be true which the law says is not true, and that he ought to be sent on for trial.

Mr. Downey was accordingly sent on to appear before the Circuit Court of the United States at its November term, upon his own recognizance.

[The case of Mark Downey was decided yesterday by Mr. Chisholm, as will be seen from the report of his decision in our local columns. His decision is, according to our notions, so plainly wrong, and made in such utter ignorance of both the facts and the law of the case, that we shall not argue the points involved, more especially as Mr. C.'s office gives no dignity or importance to his acts. His reasons are really not worthy of refutation. They do not touch the real question at issue, which is, whether the voters' oath has reference to any other disfranchisement than that effected by the constitutional amendment.]

We trust that no one will fail to register in consequence of this decision. It is a matter of no importance. [—Richmond Dispatch.]

THE VISIT OF THE PRESIDENT TO ANNAPOLIS.—The ceremonies and the speeches attending the visit of President Johnson and Secretary Seward to the capital of Maryland on Saturday last, in acceptance of the hospitality of the State tendered by the Constitutional Convention, were of an interesting and agreeable character.

Mr. Johnson happily referred to the fact that it was from the legislative chamber in Annapolis, where Washington resigned his commission—where he laid down the crown of power at the feet of the people—that the suggestion first went forth, when it was found that the old articles of confederation were not sufficient in strength for safety, for the formation of a constitution which was designed to secure a more perfect union. The whole speech of the President abounds in patriotic sentiments. Drawing his conclusions from the observations which he has had opportunity to make recently, both in the South and the North, he declares that the masses of the people to each are friendly towards one another, and hopes that the era of discord feeling is about to be restored. The other speeches, also, were of more than ordinary interest, and that of Mr. Seward quite suggestive as to the rising power of the great West, admonishing the Atlantic States, North and South, to unity and reconciliation. After partaking of a banquet in the afternoon at the Governor's Mansion, the President proceeded in a special train to Washington.—Baltimore Sun.

REGISTRATION IN VIRGINIA.—A letter from Norfolk, in the Baltimore American, says:—"The Registration, towards its close, has assumed very interesting, if not ominous, features, for the blacks had the whites a considerable majority and are entirely under the control of the Radical Republicans, who are watching anxiously the progress of these important coming events with the colored vote to handle the balance of power in deciding elections. The Conservative element in the city have carefully watched the gathering of the cohorts of the Radicals, and have been strenuously exerting their power and strength. The Radical party have already made their nominations for Congress and the municipal officers and entertain a constantly strengthening hope, as the registration progresses, of being able to subvert the old order of politics and restore to the city a thorough Radical rule."

LADY POSTOFFICE CLERKS.—It is stated that from and after to-day it is intention of Postmaster Bowen to have at the window of the ladies' delivery, ladies as clerks to take the place of the handsome young gentlemen who now officiate in that position. Whether this arrangement will suit the ladies who call for letters as well as the lady clerks, our reporter is unable to state until a trial has been made under the new system.—Nat. Int.

Several frame buildings on Glasgow street, in Portsmouth, Va., were burned last Saturday. Loss two or three thousand dollars.

CEREMONIES AT ROME.

Rome, June 27, 1867.—Pope Pius the Ninth held a public Consistory this day, Thursday, at which there were over four hundred Catholic bishops, coming from every part of the world.

The Pope delivered an allocution to the assembled prelates, in the course of which he praised their great zeal in coming to Rome from such distances, and thus evincing their attachment and devotional obedience to the Holy See. He said that the example shown to the world by the union of the Church at large in its celebration of the canonization of the martyrs of Japan and the eighteenth century anniversary of St. Peter's martyrdom, would show forth to the enemies of the chair of St. Peter the immense power which the Church wields on earth.

He confirmed the Papal condemnation of the errors of the act of October 29, 1865. He also expressed his desire to convocate at an early date a general council of the Bishops, with a view to deliberate on the best means of repairing the evils which oppress the Church just now.

He closed the allocution by imparting the Pontifical benediction to the bishops.

Rome, June 28.—Evening.—There are a great many more arrivals of Catholic prelates and clergymen and laymen, who come to take part in and witness the ceremonies of Saturday and Sunday next, and the canonization rites which are to follow.

At this moment there are four hundred and fifty archbishops and bishops, with about thirty thousand clergymen and members of the different religious orders in the Eternal City. From the United States of America are noticed the Archbishop Spalding, of Baltimore; Hickey, of St. Louis; Odin, of New Orleans; Paredi, of Cincinnati; and Bishop Wood, of Philadelphia, with twenty-two bishops from other American dioceses in British territory and the Union.

When the Pope received the American prelates and clergy at audience they presented him with two hundred thousand dollars in gold coin.

They also presented a model of the American yacht Henrietta in silver, the yacht being laden below with gold pieces to the amount of fifty thousand dollars, contributed by the people of the archiepiscopal province of Cincinnati.

The presentation of the model of the yacht was made by the Right Rev. James F. Wood, D.D., Bishop of Philadelphia.

The Pope, who was in excellent humor, lifting the exquisite model of the yacht Henrietta from the case, and said, with a gracious smile, "Non e un vapore!" "It is not a steamer!" or, as the words have been more freely translated, by some persons here, "It is not all vapor or steam" from America, alluding to the golden cargo on board.

Turning to the clergy he said that he had only pleasant words to say to the Americans present and absent. He complimented them on their progress, religious and civil, in the most cheerful manner, and spoke in the very highest terms of Gen. Rufus King, Minister of the United States in Rome, and of his father, Professor King, who now lies at the point of death.

Archbishops Spalding and Paredi, of Baltimore and Cincinnati, have been named on the committee charged to prepare a reply on behalf of the Catholic world to the Pope's allocution.

This council will probably meet in November. Archbishop Paredi, of Cincinnati, will have assigned to him a post of honor on the right hand of the Pope at the grand St. Peter's ceremony on Saturday.

Every attention, in fact, is being shown to the Americans, bishops and others.

FAUQUIER COUNTY ITEMS.—We regret to learn that in consequence of the late rains the wheat in this section has been much injured. A great deal of it is beaten down and "angled," some of it is rusted, and some "scabbed" producing a rot in eight or ten grains on each head. A large quantity, however, is firm and sound and beyond the probability of injury between this and harvest. While our farmers have sustained injury, we have reason to say upon inquiry that a good average crop will be made, far better than the fears of our community are willing to acknowledge. The only damage apprehended to the corn crop, results from the present inability to work it, in consequence of our late frequent rains. This probable damage, however, is not without remedy should the weather yet be favorable, and will only require an extra amount of labor. Taking every thing into consideration we have no great cause for complaint or despondency.

On Monday last, in pursuance to notice, our citizens were addressed by Major Z. Turner upon the duty of registration. He was followed by Governor Smith. Both gentlemen were earnest, energetic, and in our opinion convincing in the reasons adduced by them, why every man entitled to register should do so. We are authorized to state that there will be a public meeting of the colored persons of our community in the yard of the Clerk's Office on the 4th of July next. They will be addressed at their own request by Mr. E. M. Spilman and Mr. J. V. Broache, and probably by others.

Registration in Fauquier, so far as we have been able to learn, has progressed harmoniously and without any disturbance. In Warrenton at sunset last evening the number of persons registered, was 452, the colored persons being at that hour 25 ahead.—Warrenton Index.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The flour inspectors in Washington City for the quarter ending June 30th, 1867, are as follows: 2,439 barrels family, 6,076 barrels extra, 550 barrels super, 77 barrels fine, 51 barrels middlings, and 262 barrels eye flour. Total number of all grades, 9,491 barrels.

A new cheap railway league was organized on Saturday night at the board of trade rooms by the election of John R. Elvins, president; Charles Knapp and Joseph C. Kennedy, vice-presidents; L. E. Dudley, secretary; Moses Kelley, treasurer; and an executive committee embracing names of many prominent business men.

The new tariff system for the navy yard, under the laws recently passed by Congress, will to-day go into effect at the navy yard. Under the new system some changes have been made in the chief and subordinate officers.

PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY.—A letter in the Washington Chronicle, says:—"The loyal citizens of Prince William county will celebrate the 4th of July by holding a grand mass picnic meeting in the Court house grove, at Brentsville. Lyssander Hall, R. D. Beckley, Geo. W. Hutton, and others, will speak at the meeting. Tables will be prepared in the grove, and persons will bring such edibles as they may choose to make up a grand picnic dinner."
